

Episode 98: Yazoo Brewery Special Releases

We're back again, and this time sampling more beer from our hometown of Nashville, TN. This episode, we're taking a look at some special releases from a favorite brewery of ours - Yazoo. Yazoo has a special line of beers out right now, called the Hop Project, dedicated to showing the differences that various hops can make in beer. We try one of the most recent products of that project this week. In addition, we also get a taste of a Rye Saison. Got a favorite beer from your region? Send it our way and we'll try it on the show! Email us at [podcast \[at\] davisondraft \[dot\] com](mailto:podcast@davisondraft.com).

Sampled this week: Yazoo: Hop Project #13 and Rye Saison.
